ABOUT JEB JONES

Jeb Jones is an American furniture design and production studio located in upstate New York. Our furniture designs are distinguished by simple geometric forms, traditional construction methods, hand tooled surfaces and hand finishing. Only select, hand picked hardwoods are used in the construction of each piece. The hand painted, hand rubbed opaque finishes and clear coats are all VOC-free and environmentally safe.

The artist and designer John Eric Byers, is the creative energy behind JEB JONES. His furniture designs have been honored with numerous awards and grants, such as a Louis Comfort Tiffany Foundation Award and two New York Foundation of the Arts Award. In addition, his designs are residing in the permanent collections of several national museums, including the Museum of Arts & Design, New York, NY and the Smithsonian American Art Museum, Washington, D.C.
