WaterSense® Labeled Faucets

WaterSense® is a U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) sponsored program that helps identify high-performance, water-efficient bathroom sink faucets that reduce water use in the home.

WaterSense® labeled bathroom sink faucets can greatly reduce the water flow by 30%, sometimes more, without limiting the faucets performance.

This can mean a savings of more than 500 gallons of water to an average household. Also since these savings will reduce the demands on water heaters, households will become more energy efficient.

Faucets that obtain the WaterSense® label will have demonstrated both water efficiency and the ability to provide adequate flow.

Whether it's time to replace an older, inefficient faucet that's wasting water and money or looking for options to reduce water use in a home, choose a WaterSense® labeled sink faucet.

Certified by
IAPMO R&T

All products bearing the WaterSense label complete a third-party certification process that includes independent laboratory testing to ensure they meet EPA criteria.

LDR faucets comply with the low lead requirements of NSF61. Meets A112.18.1.

*LEAD FREE: The wetted surfaces of these products contacted by consumable water contain less than one quarter of one percent (0.25%) of lead by weight.
