

Bamboo Roman Release Clip Operation

Your new Bamboo roman shade is equipped with a built-in release system. If too much pressure is placed on the product's lift cords, the release system will separate the lift cords from the roman shade reducing the risk of injury to children and pets.

If the release clips are separated from the shade, it is very easy to clip them back onto the roman shade! Just follow these steps:

Figure 2

Fig. 2- This image shows the plastic ring around the lift cord and the curved release clip attached to the back of the Bamboo roman shade. The ring has been detached from the release clip.

Fig. 3- If the ring becomes detached from the release clip, it is easy to reconnect it to the Bamboo roman shade. Just take the ring and gently push it back into the curved safety clip.

When lifting and lowering the shade, please do not pull or release the pull cord with excessive force; this will activate the release mechanism prematurely.
